BLACKSBURG, VA., January 25, 1876. Our little town is in quite athriving condiion, not withstanding the merchants and farmers complain of bard times and a scarcity of money. This being vacation for the Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College the boys are all absent, and of course the merchants will complain. A great many new buildings have been erected during the summer and fall, and owing to the mildness of the winter (for we have had no snow yet) the carpenters, brick-masons, and plasterers are still at work. Messrs. Haynes & Miller deserve much credit for the manner in which they have pushed forward the work upon the college buildings.

The main buildings, when completed, will present a very fine appearance. President C. L. C. Minor's house will be finished early in the spring. Professor Carrol's house will be ready for him in a very short time. The painters are at work upon it. These private dwellings are of the most modern style, the architect (Mr. Lybrock) being from your BUCHANAN.

Teachers' Institute in Hampton [Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch]

HAMPTON, VA., January 25, 1876. A Teachers' Institute, held under the auspices of the trustees of Warwick and Elizabeth City counties, was held in the Hampton Academy on Monday and Tuesday, 24th and 25th instant.

The meeting was called to order by Superintendent G. M. Peck, who occupied the chair ex officio. William N. Turpin was elected secretary. Fourteen teachers answered to the roll-call. The first subject on the programme-The

F. against the clerk of the House, Mr. Adams, Adams, with practical illustrations in calesthenics and vocalization by R. H. Watson, George Davis, and J. C. Mebane, graduates of the Hampton Normal School. The Superintendent earnestly urged the teachers to niopt some system calculated to further these desirable objects. The Spencerian system of penmanship vas recommended and fully illustrated by Professor Owens. The next subject-Arithmetic, Fractions, and Proportion-was assigned to Mr. G. N.

Fitchett, who placed upon the blackboard an abstract of his method. After a recess of an hour, the teachers ressembled and listened to a paper upon English Grammar, read by Mr. William M.

Turpin. The first day's session was closed by a very able and interesting address upon Articulation-Physiology of the Human Voice-by Professor Owens. The Lee method of teaching reading, and which had received the premium at Vienna, was clearly and strongly presented by the Professor. On Tuesday, at 10 o'clock, the Institute was called to order, fifteen teachers answering the roll-call.

General Armstrong invited the teachers of the institutes and the citizens and friends of education generally to visit at any time his school, and witness the operation of the most recent and best methods of instruction there put into successful operation. A work is there being done for the educational interests of the negro race which is, perhaps, inadequately understood by those living at a distance. A vote of thanks was tendered Professor

Owens for the instruction and pleasure derived from his lectures and delineations of various methods of teaching. To put into practical operation a sugges-

Excitement over Sherman. Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

Washington, January 27, 1876.—Senator Sherman's nomination of Governor Hayes for the presidency excites considerable comment here, as it is calculated to create various diversions in the Radical camp. Ohio politicians are divided as to the meaning of Sherman's letter. Some of them believe that the Senator brought the Governor thus early in the field so that his chances will be utterly gone when the Convention meets. The friends of Blaine and Morton express no concern about it. XLVTH CONGRESS-First Session

NEW YORK DRY GOODS TRADE. AREW 1938. There was a thirde of improvement to-day in some branches. More buyers we visible, and though most of their operations we more snopping it is something to find them do anything. Our friends from the West were the most citive in inspection and picking up unconsider triffer, the city jobbers taking things very easi. The open winter has had a deplorable effect on buyers.

The recent failure at Boston of Jordan, Clark & Co., and the extraordinary revelations of the care they took in their business, the books not being posted for two years, has been a sad blow to confidence. Several houses here have been severely bitten, and it is felt that Boston has had all gether foo many failures of late, and that it would have been better for the creditors, if so for the dectors the meetves, if the latter had boxed up their wards and taken a very long vacation. Their extra agant drumming West for the trade which has left them and gone West is regarded as preposterous. In the clothing trade a one over $1.000,000 worth of bankrupt stock is now thrown on the market, burting legitimate traders who pay 100 cents on the dollar most severely, while after a composition of anywhere from 24c, to 50c., such is the absurd leniency now the fashion, the defaulters can go on again and compete with shelv stauncher rivals.

Prints were in better request to day, but it was not the right kind of movement. It is not usual to see lines of such time styles as are now shown hangnot the right kind of movement. It is not usual to see lines of such tine styles as are now shown hanging fire. They are usually snapped up within twenty-four hours. As it is, buyers can choose at their leisure. The new Cocheco spring styles are numerous and elegant, as are the new Britols. The Cocheco patent nurple and green fast-color robes, an ordinary widths, are especially handsome goods, and deserve to be popular. Frint cloths were rather strong, with no advance in price and little boing.

Cottonness were selling pretty well to day, and for Kentucky igans there was more inquiry. Alpacus continue to be sold shead.

In heavy cassimeres there was some activity and a much better feeling. The western buyers are in good spirits, and apparently more inclined to lay in a much better feeling. The western buyers are in good spirits, and apparently more inclin d to lay in a stock. It is thought by some of the agents that the end of the trouble has been reached. Procks are light all over-the country, goods are very low in price, and production has been gravily lessened in the past aw, months. It is the large bayers who are now operating—men who can afford to hold on for a rise. They have apparently come to the conclusion that releasance not going to fall further, and with such a return of confidence, as soon as it becomes general, it is obvious that supplies now with first hallds will speedily be closed out. History repeats itself. In 1867, the same state of things prevailed, and after a long obt and a teriod of stack water, the tide turned and the woollen interests had comparative prosperity till the panic. It seems water, the tide turned and the woolen interests had comparative prosperity thit the panic. It seems that this will be the event now, and we shall go off swimmly give again till there is another waite. Foreign goods were cult.—Interest specially so—and yes take is the sensor musily reckoned an as the harvest time of the year. Auction sales to-day were well attended, and resulted satisfactorily in every way.—Journal of Commerca.
